

Peter Speers

I joined the governing body as a parent governor in 2016: I now serve on the Premises sub-committee and am a link governor for P.E. My two youngest children currently attend All Saints' Primary School, with my eldest having just left to go to John Taylor High School. I have over 10 years of experience working with schools on organisation and planning issues, including helping to deliver the biggest primary school enlargement programme in the country across Birmingham a few years ago. This has meant working closely with school governing bodies and I hope I can use this experience to help support the school deliver the best outcomes for our children.
